

Four Sisters Chardonnay 2001

Four Sisters is the creation of Trevor Mast, owner and winemaker at Mount Langi Ghiran, world famous for its Langi Shiraz. One year his four daughters created the wine label design as a birthday surprise. Produced with the help of the eldest daughter Daliah, a graphic designer, the label depicts each one of the sisters – from the left they are Sophie, Anja, Daliah, and Ineke. Delighted with the label mockup and his daughters' plans for a wine aptly named Four Sisters, Trevor initially crafted a small production wine from the vineyard growing behind the family home. However, with the positive response from all who tried the wine and heard the original story behind it, Four Sisters is now a successful brand with a range of four classic Australian varieties.

REGION

South Eastern Australia

WINEMAKING

After the fruit is destemmed and crushed it is cold stabilized for 7-8 days. The clear juice is then racked into stainless steel for fermentation. Half way through this process, 80% is transferred to seasoned French and American oak barrels where fermentation is completed. It is then left on yeast lees for 12 months, then blended and cold stabilized before bottling.

COMMENTS

This hand crafted wine shows lifted melon and peach fruit flavors whilst subtle use of new French and American oak has added background depth and complexity.
